

Edith's Wartime Scrapbook

11th December 2019

To the Head of Kingsmoor infant school,

As the grandparents of Eva Savage, we wanted to say a great big 'Thank you' for the incredible afternoon last Tuesday when we attended the children's wonderful Second World War musical. It obviously hit the right note of the hardships during a very difficult time for so many in the war. Being hungry was real issue at that time and never knowing if your loved ones will ever return home. The children's voices were so tuneful as was the whistling, it was a real treat to be with all those children. You did say you were very proud of them all and so you should be.

Thank you once again for letting us see all those children and of course Eva doing such a grand job.

Yours sincerely

Alan and Jo Wooding.

Dear Mrs Jenkins,

Just to let you know I posted this on the local Flitwick page.

Please share my thanks with all the staff.

I just want to say, I went to Kingsmoor's KS2 performance last night.

It was FAB U LOUS!!

The children were fantastic and the singing was some of the best I've heard. (During 37 years of teaching, I've heard a lot!

A big thank you to the staff involved. I know how hard you work, especially at this time of the year.

The children were a credit to you, their families, and above all, themselves!

Obviously, I cried loads.

Such an informative production. So much knowledge about the subject and what better way to embed their learning. Not an obvious Christmas choice, but what fantastic messages they shared.

Just brilliant!

Thank you.

Happy Christmas. Enjoy your break.
